

ATIBOX WORLD WINNER EXHIBITION 2./3.06.2007

The big ATIBOX family met on this weekend not only to the world exhibition, but also for general meeting along elections in Novi Sad.

The Serbian university city of Novi Sad is the capital of the autonomous province Vojvodine. Situated on the Danube, this town has over 300 000 inhabitants and is thus second after Belgrade. Founded in 1694, after the Hapsbourg conquest of the country, the center of Novi Sad has been built in baroque style.

On the opposite Danube bank is situated the fortress Petrovaradin that has been an important defence of the city during several centuries. The university, founded in 1960, has now nearly 40 000 students.

During the Kosovo war in 1999, the town became a target of NATO air-raids that destroyed also all bridges over the Danube, and during the following 6 years the traffic passed over a pontoon bridge. In 2005, the Liberty Bridge has been opened, which again allows a normal road and ship traffic.

The big ATIBOX family came not only together for the annual ATIBOX dog-show, but also held, on June 1st, the General Assembly, with elections. The Assembly decided to modify the Convention in order to enable the enlargement of the Committee by two assessors.

Detailed minutes of the General Assembly will be sent to the member countries. The Show took place in the vicinity of a stud that offered, in former farm buildings and stables, guest-rooms in a very romantic environment. The registration of more than 540 dogs from 26 nations shows the high importance of this dog-show in the Boxer world.

The infrastructure was extremely well organized: large-scale rings, sufficient parkings and appreciable catering. A great number of colourful pavilion tents protected against sun and rain. Dr. Milos Lucic's crew offered us in every respect a brilliantly organized show.

The staff at the information desk was well trained and was able to provide informations in several languages. The ring announcements, too, were given in several languages, thus enabling everybody to be in the right spot at the right time. Digital screens permitted to call the participants and to give informations.

We express our cordial thanks to Dr.

Milos Lucic and his many assistants for the perfect organization of this show. We have very much appreciated this weekend in Serbia, with much sun and heat.
